SOME FACTS & FEATURES THAT WILL ADD TO YOUR PEACE OF MIND

If you like what you see in a David Weekley home, you may not be considering what goes into making our homes energy-efficient. There is a lot that goes on behind our walls and within our homes that really sets us apart from the rest.

For example, our ceiling insulation creates a blanket of insulation in the attic that also resists heat and its effects on the home while our draft elimination measures prevent air from leaking through walls and doors, making it easier to control the inside temperature. Our fresh air system introduces fresh air into your home to improve indoor air quality and comfort. Our jump ducts and air pressure balancing system ensures that the fresh air coming into a closed room is pushed into common areas, helping even out temperatures throughout the home. All of these systems work in conjunction with a high-performance air conditioning system designed to lower your cooling costs.

Of course, there are things that you do see. From the architectural details in our elevations and the openness of our floor plans to the beautiful cabinet and flooring selections and the quality appliances from well-known, reputable manufacturers, there is no doubt that you are discovering you just can't beat a David Weekley home.
